“ It still feels unreal that you are gone. I would remember always watching and talking you about our favorite shows The Have and Have Nots and If Loving You Is Wrong when you was over and if you wasn't over when you came down we still discussed it when you came over. You were the aunt that everyone loved , you did for everyone and you also loved everyone same. It wasn't a night that went by that you and grandma wasn't up late looking at tv together , talking, and laughing. I would always remember going work and be like Loretta I got such and such out for you I'm going work , you would tell me alright hope you have a good day an see you when you get home.
